Welcome to the winter edition of Corangamite News

I want to take this opportunity to reach out to Corangamite Shire residents over 60 who have not yet received their first dose of AstraZeneca.*

Perhaps you haven't got around to it. Or you're worried about the vaccine. Maybe you're just waiting to see what happens. If you do have underlying health issues and are concerned about side effects, this is a completely legitimate concern and I encourage you to discuss this with your GP.

Australia's elimination strategy has put us in the fortunate position where COVID has not been able to run rampant through our community. There is no doubt this strategy has saved countless lives and enabled our health system to save many others.

But now we face a dilemma. While the rest of the world has been urgently vaccinating millions of people through sheer necessity, here in Australia we've felt safe and protected. This has created a bit of a complacency that will not serve us well in the long run.

If we want to re-join the rest of the world safely, the only way out of this is vaccinating more than 80% of our population. Currently Australia sits at under 5% fully vaccinated.

Getting vaccinated is an easy and straightforward process. I booked through South West Healthcare the week before, turned up at my appointment time and the injection was all over in 5–10 minutes. There is a waiting period of 15 minutes once you are vaccinated. Vaccinations are free and you'll need your Medicare card, identification and mobile phone. The Camperdown sessions are usually held Tuesdays and Fridays, depending on the availability of vaccines.

South West Healthcare runs a tight ship down at the Killara Centre. The qualified health workers are caring, assuring and professional. Chances are you'll see a familiar face behind the mask. I will receive my second dose of AZ in August by following the same process. There is a recommended wait time of 12 weeks between doses.

If vaccination sessions are not available in your nearest town, please contact your local GP.

I didn't experience any side effects, but common reactions to vaccination can include pain, redness and/or swelling where you received the needle, mild fever or headache. Most side effects last no more than a couple of days.

So if you're over 60, have no underlying health concerns, and are still sitting on the fence about vaccination, you are in the privileged position of being prioritised. I encourage you to book an appointment and just get it done. If you're over 50 and received the first dose of AZ, I encourage you to stay the course and get the second dose.

Not only does getting vaccinated protect you against severe COVID-19 symptoms, you are less likely to pass it onto others. It is an absolute fact that COVID risks far outweigh vaccine risks. I want to thank everyone who has already been vaccinated. By doing this, you're protecting yourself, your family and your community.

Cr Ruth Gstrein Mayor

* At the time of printing, AZ had become available to more age-groups. Contact your local GP for advice.

BUSINESS PROFILE

Thommo's Hotel, Cobden

It hasn't taken Belinda and Michael long to make their mark since they took over Thommo's Hotel in Cobden.

With a new beer garden, repainted bar, chandeliers, a new menu and a focus on building up the accommodation side of the business, the former Ballarat couple are breathing new life into the historic landmark.

The couple employ Belinda's daughter Georgia, a British chef stranded in Victoria by COVID-19, and two young locals, with plans to employ one or two front of house staff and a cleaner.

"This is our very first pub that we've run but I've been head chef at different venues," said Belinda, a pastry chef by trade who has been in hospitality for 25 years.

"We love to travel so we were going to go live somewhere else in the world. Then COVID hit.

Michael's work contract ran out in December and it was time to look for greener pastures.

"I just moved out of the rail network, from building trains to fitting onboard diagnostic systems in Melbourne for the last 18 months before I moved down here," he said.

Belinda's manager at the City Oval Hotel in Ballarat was Cobden export Rob Gayton, and he said: "I've got a hotel down in Cobden I either want to sell or lease".

His great-grandfather Robert Thompson built the pub in 1904 and it's been in his family since then.

"This was an option and Michael said: 'Do you want to have a crack?'" Michael spent 14 weeks travelling down and working at the pub as a 'try before you buy' test run.

"When we decided we were going to lease the pub we started doing the work renovating out in the beer garden and upgrading the residence upstairs, as well as working in the bar and getting to know the locals," he said.

"We moved down here the last week of January and took over on 1 February.

For the cooler months, the old drive-through bottle shop has been converted to an indoor beer garden with a toasty fire and big screen for sporting events.

Belinda also creates spectacular cakes for parties and events. Catering of meals or canapés is also available.

"Hopefully the people enjoy us as much as we enjoy them. I always say, I want you to come to the pub because you want to. You want the venue to speak for itself."

The pair are confident in the hotel's potential to reinforce the local economy.

"It's pretty central," Belinda said. "If they're coming here and staying with us, hopefully they're going to eat and drink with us but they might go to the bakery or the Blue Wren. It's a win for every little business if our accommodation has got 10 rooms booked out."

Facade grants program open to more businesses

More businesses across Corangamite Shire can apply for a grant to give their street front a facelift.

The Business Facade Improvement Program (formerly the Retail Area Facade Improvement Program) is into its seventh year and for the first time eligibility has been extended beyond the main business strips.

Businesses can now apply for funding to update their facades, as well as making access improvements.

Works can include:

- Painting or cleaning
- Removing old signs, air-conditioners and hoardings
- Installing new business signs
- Repairs, maintenance or replacement of tiles, awnings or verandahs
- Installing interior lights visible from the street
- Universal access improvements (eg. ramps)

Businesses can apply for up to $3,000 (exc GST) on a $1 : $1 basis. Applicants must be able to fund the works and Council will pay its contribution once works are done.

Planning fees will be waived for successful applicants. Work on buildings in heritage areas will need to meet any relevant planning guidelines.

Businesses that have been awarded facade grants previously are still eligible, but preference will be given to businesses who have not previously been funded.

We encourage potential applicants to give the Economic Development team a call on 5593 7100 to have a chat about their idea.

Guidelines and online application forms are available at corangamite.vic.gov.au/facades

Applications will be accepted until 9 am, Monday 9 August.

Does your business have a COVIDSafe Plan?

Did you know it is mandatory for every Victorian business with on-site operations to have a COVIDSafe Plan? To ensure compliance, random spot checks are occurring throughout Victoria.

Our Economic Development team can help you with any QR Code and COVIDSafe Plan enquiries. Give us a call on 5593 7100 or email ecodev@corangamite.vic.gov.au

We have confirmation State Government spot checks are happening across Victoria. This includes advice that some businesses have been shut down for violations of the Chief Health Officer's directions as part of a crackdown on COVIDSafe compliance.

COVIDsafe Plans prepare businesses for a suspected or confirmed case of COVID-19 in the workplace and need to be updated when public health advice changes.

Meet Richard White

who will be helping out with this

Richard White joined our Economic Development team in late June as a COVID Business Support Officer. Richard will be assisting businesses and providing support around COVIDSafe Plans, signage and Service Victoria QR Codes over the next six months.

If you have any COVIDSafe related issues or questions, Richard is your guy on 5593 7100.

New stables and community hub Terang Harness Racing Club

Terang Harness Racing Club is set to build new stables and a community hub worth almost $2 million.

Proposed works include demolition of some existing horse stalls and construction of a new building will 100 horse stalls, wash areas, storage and a works area.

The new stalls will be a Manangatang style, where horses are led through rather than having to be reversed out once they are harnessed up.

“They walk in and drive out,” club President Evan Savage said. “It also involves a community hub which will be used on race days and out of race days for functions.”

New public toilets will be included in the shed and will link into a proposed extension of the undercover community pavilion. The development will provide a pathway for grass roots equestrian participants from pony club to racing.

Work will be carried out by local contractor GreenCon Australia.

Council committed $50,000 to the project in its 2016-2017 Budget as seed funding to attract State Government and Racing Club Victoria funds. Member for Wannan Dan Tehan announced $250,000 in Federal Government funding in 2019 and State racing Minister Martin Pakula committed $730,000 in May this year.

“Harness Racing Victoria has been a good supporter of the project,” Mr Savage said.

He said HRV and the Terang Owners Trainers and Supporters Group had made substantial contributions to the club’s fundraising efforts. The project is estimated to cost $1.9 million.

Mr Savage thanked all of the contributors, as did Central Ward Councillor Geraldine Conheady.

“It’s fantastic to see this level of support from Government and from within the industry itself,” Cr Conheady said.

“The club is a valuable asset to Terang and the Shire for the jobs it creates not just on race day but in all of the businesses that support the owners and trainers in getting their horses onto the track. It also provides important social connections for the community and the improved facilities will enhance the experience for all users.

“The committee has worked tirelessly and is to be commended.”

Dispose of old safety flares safely

Call your local police station. If they can’t accept your expired flares, they will tell you what to do.

It’s important to keep flares out of transfer stations and the Naroghid landfill where they pose a serious fire risk. If they are run over by machinery, they can ignite and start a waste fire.

Meet North Ward Cr Nick Cole

When Nick Cole ran for Council in 2020 to be a voice for farmers, he brought 180 years of Corangamite district pastoral heritage with him.

The Coles run the world famous Stanbury line of Corriedale sheep at Bookaar and export genetics around the world.

“The farm West Cloven Hills has been in the family since 1839,” Cr Cole said.

“I am the sixth Nicholas Cole on the joint and now run it in partnership with my two sons—Nicholas and William—and wife Susan. My daughter Emma is studying graphic design in Melbourne.

“I have two brothers and a sister. Stephen farms over the hill from me. David owned a greenkeeping business in Melbourne until recently. Penny lives in New Zealand.”

Cr Cole received his early education at Camperdown kindergarten and Derrinallum state and high schools before going to Geelong for his senior schooling. He studied wool classing at the Gordon Institute.

I lived in England for about a year in the mid 80s and travelled around Europe and each year I used to go away working on other farms wool classing for six months of each year.

Cr Cole has always been heavily involved in his local community. He played for local sporting clubs but describes his career in a trademark down-to-earth style: “I played football for Derrinallum reserves for a couple of years—badly—but made up the numbers.

“I played cricket at Bookaar for many years, notching up 100 games and 100 runs . Nearly Donald Bradman’s average!”

Off the paddock, Nick has been involved in the Darlington CFA for over 50 years and the Camperdown Hospital Auxiliary for many years. He is a Kilnoorat Cemetery committee member and president of the Darlington Cemetery Trust.

One of Cr Cole’s other passions is for music.

“I make guitars for a hobby, being self taught before the internet,” he said.

He has made about 60 acoustic and electric guitars, mandolins, ukuleles, banjos and upright electric basses.

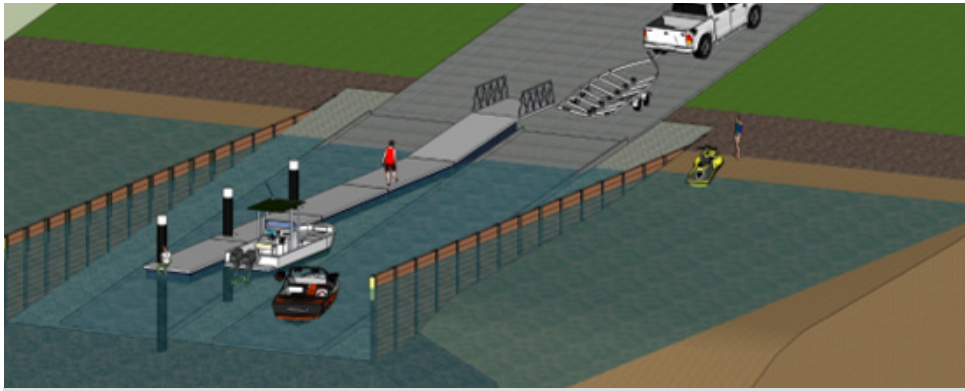

“I have played in bands since leaving school in the mid 70s and have been lucky enough to play with some wonderful and brilliant musicians. I now play in a local band with my son Nick which is great fun.”

Cr Cole counts himself lucky that his work in the sheep industry has taken him to many parts of the world.

“I have been lucky with farming and travel and my sheep, having judged overseas a bit in some amazing places.

“But having said that , there is no place like home and we are very, very lucky to live in a wonderful part of the world like the Western District of Victoria.”

RECREATION

Garry Ridgeway (top right) from Geelong has been a regular visitor to Lake Bullen Merri for more than 50 years.

“Nineteen Sixty-eight I first fished the lake,” he said. “I’ve enjoyed every day of it.” He said these two 1.2 kg chinook salmon were released as fingerlings on 7 November 2019.

Right: VicRoads has designed a turnaround area for cars and trailers to improve safety where pedestrians share space with reversing vehicles.

New boat ramp for Lake Bullen Merri

The State Government recently announced $2.5 million for a new boat ramp at South Beach on Lake Bullen Merri.

South Beach Committee of management chairman Phil Russell thanked the Government for its contribution.

“To actually have the funding now so we can move ahead is great. We’re rapt,” he said.

“I and the rest of the team who have been involved from day one are very appreciative of the efforts put in by the Shire.

Mr Russell said the committee had been careful to follow the procedure and “tick all the boxes”.

“We’ve engaged all users. We’ve given everyone a say,” he said.

“We had an internationally recognised company do the design. They’ve tackled all the problems from years past—the receding waterline and the sand build-up—all the issues that came to light in maintaining the boat ramp.

“We’re really comfortable with the research and detail that has gone into it.”

Camperdown Angling Club president Dave Ritchie said club members were extremely pleased with the announcement of the boat ramp at Bullen Merri.

“It will provide first-class facilities to all users of recreational watercraft and no doubt bring more people back to the lake,” Mr Ritchie said.

“Thanks must go to the Corangamite Shire and all stakeholders involved in this project, in seeing it through to this successful stage.”

Mayor Ruth Gstrein thanked the Government and praised the efforts of the steering committee members from South Beach Committee of Management, Better Boating Victoria (BBV), Fisheries Victoria, Parks Victoria, and Council.

“This funding announcement is really good news for lake users,” Cr Gstrein said.

“Lake Bullen Merri is a really popular fishing spot and the Yachting Western Victoria Regatta is a huge event that draws people from across Victoria and interstate.

“This investment will be of great lifestyle value to locals and will benefit the visitor economy as well.”

The water level in the lake has been decreasing over the decades, causing the water line to recede by about a quarter of a metre each year which has meant repeated extensions to the ramp.

The new design has a single pontoon with ramps either side and retaining walls to prevent sand build-up. The modular design means it can be extended more economically, when necessary, by re-locating uphill sections to where they’re needed.

2040 Community Vision

The environment, Indigenous recognition, jobs, volunteering, education, health and aged care, public transport, housing, education and communications are all key considerations of Corangamite Shire's 2040 Community Vision.

Developed by an independent Citizens' Jury, the plan has four interconnected themes to guide Corangamite Shire's plans for the future to ensure a thriving, sustainable and connected community.

1. Futureproofing
2. People
3. Liveability and lifestyle
4. Prosperity and innovation

The Citizens' Jury was established through expressions of interest in 2020 to develop Corangamite Shire's Community Vision for 2040.

The Citizens' Jury considered all the submissions, sought additional information and expert advice and has come up with a fantastic document. You can view the Community Vision 2040 online at corangamite.vic.gov.au/2040

New spaces worth the wait

A new era has begun at two Corangamite Shire kindergartens.

With the introduction of subsidised Three-Year-Old Kindergarten in 2021, Skipton Pre-School and Cobden and District Kindergarten were in desperate need of more room to move.

Thanks to more than $1 million from the State Government's Building Blocks program, major extensions have set up the two facilities to educate the next generation of children.

Corangamite Shire received $689,000 from the State Government's Building Blocks program and a further $260,000 from the Federal Government's Local Roads and Community Infrastructure Fund to build a second playroom at Cobden and District Kindergarten.

Council also received $400,000 from the Building Blocks program to expand Skipton Pre-School.

Cobden has been transformed to boast a second playroom, meeting room, dedicated foyer, increased storage, improved accessibility, upgrades to bathrooms and new Maternal and Child Health consulting space.

Skipton works included a playroom extension and upgrades to staff facilities, bathrooms, and storage areas.

The projects have helped futureproof the facilities, with pupil numbers expected to grow in coming years.

STAFF PROFILE

Sarah Troisi

Local Laws Officer/Ranger

1. How long have you been at Corangamite Shire?

Three years. I originally started in the Fire Recovery Team after the St Patricks Day fires in 2018.

2. What is your background? How did you wind up in local laws?

I previously worked as a Local Laws Officer at Melton City Council then wanted a scenic change and moved to King Island to work on a dairy farm.

3. What does your role involve?

Dealing with animals, patrolling the Shire and dealing with members of the community.

4. What attracted you to Corangamite?

The quietness.

5. What do you enjoy about your job?

Being able to rehome animals that need a second chance.

6. What are some of the biggest challenges facing local laws in Corangamite Shire?

Trying to help in difficult situations. Our small team also covers a large geographic area.

If you have an animal or local laws issue or question, give Sarah a call on 5593 7100.

TACKLING WEEDS

Roadside Weed Control Program

This year's Roadside Weed Control Program has wrapped up with more than $250,000 invested to treat 1,500 km of local roadsides across the Shire.

Thanks to more hands on deck through the State Government's Working for Victoria program, we had a team start last August 2020 (earlier than usual) to tackle woody roadside weeds, mainly Sweet Pittosporum, Mirror Bush and Cotton Easter in the south of the Shire.

We rolled out the remainder of the program between November and May, following up Blackberry, Ivy, Ragwort, St John's Wort and Periwinkle control. Areas of Sweet Pittosporum and Mirror Bush were revisited from last year's treatment. Species such as English and Cape Ivy, and Blue Periwinkle also received a lot more treatment this year.

WEED	LOCATION	TREATED
Blackberry	334 roads predominantly in south of Shire and some central parts	1,100 km
Sweet Pittosporum	106 roads in south of Shire	603 km
Pampas Grass	38 roads in south of Shire	266 km
Gorse	32 roads mostly in north of Shire	137 km
Ragwort	51 roads in south of Shire	346 km
Boxthorn	114 roads mostly in north of Shire	570 km
St John's Wort	20 roads in south of Shire	176 km
Sweet Briar and Hawthorn	Mainly in south and central Shire	532 km
Mirror Bush	99 roads in south of Shire	558 km
English and Cape Ivy	73 roads in south of Shire	444 km
Blue Periwinkle	26 roads in south of Shire	223 km

Bold strategy to grow our regional futures

Food and Fibre Great South Coast has launched a strategic plan for the future prosperity of the Great South Coast.

'Growing Our Regional Futures' considers food, aquaculture, horticulture, forestry and other fibres.

Driving 60 per cent of the regional economy and accounting for over one in five of the region's jobs, the food and fibre sector is the largest employer in the Great South Coast.

Significant challenges need to be addressed, such as 30 per cent skilled labour shortage, the underutilisation of high-value assets such as groundwater, and educational attainment which lags behind the state average.

The 2021-2023 Strategic Plan is an impact-focused blueprint addressing these challenges and boosting the region's economic potential through lifting productivity and attracting resources to meet the demands of the future.

Key actions include driving regional investment, improving use of natural resources, championing the region's high-quality agricultural output and attracting and retaining a talented workforce.

You can find the strategy at southcoastfoodfibre.com.au/food-fibre-strategic-plan
